MARTIN SERVES

Martin Serves is the service component of Religious Life that encourages students, faculty and staff to become civic leaders and commit to service as a lifelong activity. Martin Serves participants live out acts of service in three ways: Mercy, Justice and Service-Learning.

M E R C Y

Acts of mercy include basic community service and campuswide service events such as Freshmen Service Day, National Make a Difference Day, Boo-Out, Visit with Santa, Service Awareness Week, Spring Service Day, monthly birthday parties for residents of Hewitt House, monthly Bible studies with a local after school program at East End United Methodist Church, and finally our organic community garden which provides fresh produce for the Help Center who provides food for families in need.

Students served three hours local Community Partners in such capacities as painting the gym for students at the Boys and Girls Club; gardening at Ivy Crest, Olivet UMC and MMC; cleaning up local parks; organizing and cleaning the food pantry at the Help Center; and stabilizing the riding arena at Leg-Up Therapeutic Riding Center.

Boo-Out

Eighty students, combined with numerous faculty and staff, supplied 13 individually themed booths ranging from Wizard of Oz characters to pirates and superhero nurses. Approximately 130 children enjoyed games such as Gamma Beta Phi's Pirate Ship Treasure Hunt and the MMC Recycling Team Recycle toss. The Drama Club also provided a face-painting booth and the Art Club donated a pumpkin to each Boo-Out participant.

JUSTICE

Acts of justice include events that encourage faculty, staff and students to educate the campus and community issues that impact the campus community, Giles County residents and our brothers and sisters around the world. Martin Serves Justice events include: The Social Justice Lecture, MLK Social Justice Trip, Social Justice Awareness Week and One Day Without Shoes.

Above: Autumn Dennis and Courtney Lancaster show Brett Runge the dangers malaria presents, while Brandi Belcher (right) puts herself in the shoes of a homeless person to address the issue of homelessness during Social Justice Awareness Week.

Martin Serves students participate in the MLK March in Nashville during their Social Justice Trip.

Every year, TOMS asks supporters to help raise awareness by challenging them to go one day without shoes. Last year, Martin Serves hosted a One Day without Shoes event that was very successful. In an effort to assist TOMS Shoes again, Martin Serves not only encouraged the MMC Community to join in the One Day Without Shoes campaign on April 5, it encouraged supporters to go the entire week of April 4th-8th without shoes! Martin Serves has also set up a collection box in the Johnston Center to collect gently used shoes that will be given to those in need around Nashville.

Martin Serves' newest component of service is service-learning, an opportunity for our students to take what they're learning in the classroom and apply it in the community. Martin Serves has worked closely with the First Year Experience director to incorporate Service-Learning as a component of the First Year Experience course which every freshmen is required to complete. Martin Serves has also offered faculty development sessions to encourage faculty throughout many of the disciplines offered at MMC to incorporate service-learning into existing courses. Some examples include: Brant Harwell's Honor English Composition class that mentored students at Southside Elementary; Joan Haskins' First Year Experience class that revamped a local cemetery, revealing old history that Giles County had forgotten, and Tina McGill's business class that revamp the MMC bookstore from a business perspective.

This was a student production, directed by MMC senior, Rachel Hagewood.

The Fantasticks

Directed by David Alford, this was the first time MMC tackled a musical production. Tom Jones and Harvey Schmidt wrote "The Fantasticks" in 1959 for a production at Bernard College. The show officially opened in May of 1960 and is now the longest running and most frequently produced musical in the world, as well as being the longest running show in American theater. The story is about two fathers who pretend to feud in order to trick their son and daughter, Matt and Luisa, into falling in love.

Coach Gerry Cleary, concluding his 2010 campaign, his 8th season as the RedHawks head coach, continues a string of successes. The 2010 year efforts continued with the string of seven consecutive NAIA National Championship appearances and a 7th consecutive TranSouth Athletic Championship. The 2010 RedHawks were 13-4-3 overall, and 6-0-0 in TranSouth play. This successful team was led by two NAIA All-Americans, senior Simone Souza and sophomore Yalu Borbolla along with Cleary, the TranSouth Athletic Conference Coach of the Year. Forward Mor Efraim (Sophomore/Nevatim, Israel) represented MMC as a First Team All-Conference honoree, her first of her career. Named as TranSouth Offensive Player of the Week once this season, Efraim led the RedHawks in scoring and assists, with nine total goals and seven helpers. Starting all 17 games, her five game-winners led the league, while she ranks in the top five in all statistical categories in the TranSouth.

Midfielder Simone Souza (Senior/Sao Paulo, Brazil), a 2009 All-American honorable mention and TSAC First Team All-Conference selection, earned her second straight recognition as a first teamer. Souza led the midfield as one of two players remaining from the 2007 National Champion squads, helping the RedHawks to a 11-3-3 overall record. The senior was a part of her fourth consecutive regular season conference championship as a RedHawk, scoring one goal this season. Midfielders Daniel Sofer (Sophomore/Hadera, Israel) and Anna Becerra (Freshman/Richland Hills, Texas) both earned first team honors, as MMC took three of four midfield spots on the first team. The honor represents Sofer's second at Martin Methodist, as she scored three goals and was credited with five assists in 16 starts. Becerra, MMC's only freshman to earn an All-Conference nod, was a 13-game starter in 15 appearances.

2009 Freshman of the Year, Yalu Borbolla (Sophomore/Mexico City, Mexico), returned to the TranSouth All-Conference first team for the second season in a row. An everyday starter for MMC, Borbolla scored two goals and two assists, and was the only defender selected All-Conference for the RedHawks.

Goalkeeper Hanit Schwarz (Junior/Beer-Sheva, Israel) also made her second appearance among the conference ranks, this time on the first team after earning a second team selection last season. Schwarz was named TSAC Defensive Player of the Week this season, and has made 36 total saves in almost 1,603 minutes of play. She has allowed just eight goals this season, ranking sixth among NAIA keepers.

Coach Paschal Dunne, entering his 14th season and coming off a 12-4-3 overall record, began the 2010 season fresh off a TranSouth Athletic Conference Tournament mark of 5-1-1 along with the league championship. In addition, the 2009 squad advanced to the men's soccer first-ever NAIA National Tournament Elite Eight appearance, leaving the 2010 team with big shoes to fill.

The Martin Methodist College men's soccer program looked to work their way back to the top in the TranSouth in 2010 with a strong nucleus of the team returning and a preseason ranking of No. 6 in the NAIA. As the 2010 season matured, the RedHawks were led by All-American candidate, goal keeper James Colman, in which the RedHawks produced nine games allowing one or no goals. However, the RedHawks struggled offensively to score goals themselves.

As the season wore on, the RedHawks were able to finish the season with an overall record of 8-6-2, advancing to the championship game of the TranSouth Athletic Conference Championship before ending their season with a loss to Bethel University. Post season honors went to All-Conference players James Colman, Joe Beecroft, and Andy Gordon. In addition, Colman (pictured to the left) received national accolades for the NAIA National Player of the Week. In this season, much experience was gained and lessons learned to reload and rebuild for a 2011 potential championship run.

Coach Rose Magers-Powell, entering her 13th season in 2010 and coming off a 14-15 overall record in 2009, and the 2010 volleyball team were looking to work their way back to the top in the TranSouth. After a 4-10 TSAC mark in 2009 left them with a seventh place finish in TranSouth Athletic Conference standings, the Martin Methodist College volleyball program, who returned just four players and no seniors, had their work cut out for them.

Starting the 2010 season with two wins out of the block helped set the pace to rebuild the strong RedHawk volleyball pride and tradition. As the season wore on, the youth and the lack of seniors began to take its toll as the RedHawks fell short in many close matches. An example of this inexperience was shown as the RedHawks carried opponents seven times to five game matches, and were only able to secure two victories out of those seven.

When the season was over, the 2010 RedHawks had accumulated a 17-20 overall record, with a 8-5 record in the TranSouth Athletic Conference and a fourth place tie in the conference standings. Post season honors went to: Ann-Katherin Kuehorn, who was All-Conference First Team Selection and Paula Sioto, who was named the TranSouth Freshman of the Year. In this season, a firm foundation was laid, and successes collected to produce a potentially highly successful run in 2011.

Bowling

Coach Norm Titus, entering his second year as the Men's and Women's Bowling team head coach, led the RedHawks to their first tournament of the bowling season and brought out promising and encouraging results. During this tournament, the men's team showed their ability to score with some of the best teams in the nation. The Orange and Black Classic proved the men's ability to perform at the highest level. Five bowlers started out on the high end of scores, emerging on top of the leader board with the tournament high score of 1171. Although encountering some difficulty, MMC finished day one in a solid fourth place. Riley Buchholz absolutely impressed during qualifying, finishing the day at 1370 for six games, never dropping below 200. His 228 average placed in second, a mere nine pins below the leader.

The men's team found continued success, staying in the top eight of the tournament after day two qualifying to make it to the bracket-style finals. The RedHawks found themselves in 5th place, and were matched up with 4th-place Notre Dame College. Thanks to two key splits conversions by Anthony Szeluga in the 8th frame, and Michael Poirier in the 19th, MMC took the last game to move on to face Lindenwood in the top four.

On the ladies' team, MMC used the returning leadership of Emily Bowers to succeed. Her advice and talent certainly paved the way for much more successful tournament outings. The RedHawks, led by Bowers, who took 38th place with a 178.5 average, and Lessie Bailey, who finished 51st with a 172. Six bowlers were a part of the 15th place finish. Both RedHawk teams made great strides over the course of their tournament play, especially at their first TIER 1 tournament, the Brunswick Southern Tournament, in Marietta, Georgia.

In addition, Paloma Cortina was voted the TranSouth Conference Player of the Year for the Women's Team and Vinicius Santos was voted the TranSouth Conference Player of the year for the Men's Tennis Team, while Coach Melinda Sevier was voted the Coach of the Year for 2011.

Martin Methodist's Vinicius Santos was named the TranSouth Conference Men's Tennis Player of the Week three times while Fabio Santos was named twice. On the Women's Tennis Team: Mikaela Long was named three times and Cortina and Maria Charrys were named twice.

Coach Jamy Bechler concluded his 1st year as the Head Coach for the RedHawk Women's Basketball team with a record of 17-14, 6-10 TSAC. Coach Bechler brings 16 years of coaching experience to MMC with eight years as a head women's coach as he continues the winning cycle of five consecutive years without a losing season for the RedHawks.

Coach Bechler inherited a team that possesses both academic drive and athletic prowess. With the combination of these traits and with Coach Bechler's experience, organization, and practice philosophy, the RedHawks battled through an injury prone season to finish strong and reputable in the TranSouth Athletic Conference play. This foundation will prove extremely valuable in the years to come in Coach Bechler's reign of the RedHawks.

Post season accolades were led by athletic and academic performance of Giles County native Vee Young who was selected to the NAIA Third Team All-America selections. Young, in her first year with MMC, was named as the TSAC Newcomer of the Year after an instrumental role with the RedHawks. Young ranked No. 5 in the NAIA in scoring, No. 6 in blocks, and No. 13 in field goal percentage, and averaged 20.4 points and 9.0 rebounds per game.

Additional post season academic recognition went to: NAIA Scholar Athlete, Ashley Meeks; and TranSouth Scholar Athletes, Micah Anderson, Jessy Christopher, Cori Jones, Ashley Meeks, Rikki Sanders, Becca Smithson, and Vee Young.

After a record-breaking season for RedHawk men's basketball, the road has ended for MMC in the Fab Four at this year's Buffalo Funds-NAIA Division I Men's Basketball National Championship. Unseeded Pikeville College defeated MMC, 110-99, on Monday night in Kansas City, as the RedHawks closed their season in the program's furthest NAIA Championship run. Stringing together a 34-3 season, their most winning record in collegiate basketball this season, the RedHawks made history on numerous levels.

Ree McCrory and Chris Leggett were both All-Conference selections, McCrory to the First Team and Leggett to the Second Team. In additional honors, Justice, McCrory, and Nello Giordano earned Scholar Athlete accolades. Giordano placed on the Scholar Athlete team for the third consecutive season.

Justice was named the TranSouth Player of the Year and Newcomer of the Year. Just days after clinching their first TranSouth Regular Season Championship, MMC's Sharpe earned his first TranSouth Coach of the Year honor. 2010-11 Division I Men's Basketball All-America Teams included MMC's Justice with a First Team nod, and McCrory named to the Honorable Mention team.

Coach Andy Shape, concluding his 4th year at MMC, was honored at the NCAA Final Four Men's Basketball Championship. Coach Andy Sharpe was named out of 17 total finalists as the first-ever Don Meyer NAIA National Coach of the Year Award winner, as presented by CollegeInsider.com. The award, a national recognition among NAIA men's basketball coaches, is named in honor of the games most winning in any division in NCAA history, and was developed after Coach Meyer announced his retirement in 2010.

The RedHawks gained momentum after a finishing a solid 5th place in Conference play and remaining strong in the post season finishing 3rd in the TranSouth Athletic Conference Tournament.

The RedHawks bring back an experienced pitching staff, after winning back-to-back TSAC Pitcher of the Year awards in 2009 and 2010, alongside five returning starters in the field.

Amber Kinsey and Katlin White received TranSouth first team all-conference nods for the second straight year, as Sam Queen was recognized by the league coaches for the first time, as a second team selection. Pitcher Katlin White, current TranSouth Pitcher of the Week, threw her second collegiate no-hitter in a 6-0 win.

The MMC Cheerleaders competed against twenty five other institutions across the nation. The RedHawk Cheerleader won awards including: a Spirit Stick, three Blue Ribbons, two Perfect Scores on the Game Day Routine, 1st in their division for their Game Day Routine, Rowdy the Redhawk received Most Improved Mascot, and the squad also brought home a Bronze Bid to the NCA National Championship which will take place in Daytona, FL in April 2011.

This season has brought about a tremendous change in both the mindset and the performance of the RedHawk Cheerleaders. The cheerleaders now flip and twist all over the basketball court during games, and have become involved in co-ed, competitive cheerleading.

In February, the Martin Methodist College cheerleaders, then traveled to Shorter University to compete in the first-ever NAIA Cheerleading Invitational Competition. This inaugural competition marks a huge step in the NAIA push to establish cheerleading as a true varsity sport. The RedHawk squad did great in their first competition, earning a second place finish in the Coed Cheer division, as host Shorter took the top spot. This competition was the first of two competitions for the RedHawk cheerleaders this year.

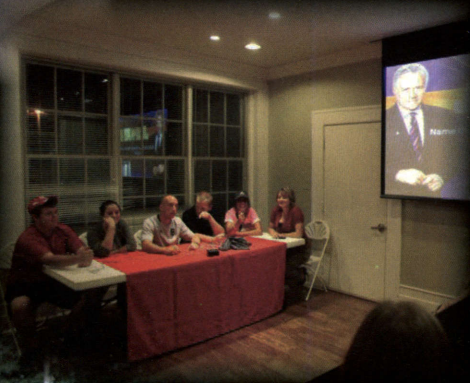

The MMC cheerleaders participated in two different practices to prepare for the semi-finals. The RedHawks competed in the NAIA Large Coed division. The squad did a great job in their first ever national performance. The RedHawks finished in fifth place, just missing the top three teams to make the finals, but then were able to participate in the Challenge. After a first year of competition, the RedHawk team proved to be competitive, and scored well within the range to be top three in the nation. Co-coaches look forward to a top three position in competition next season.
